SE ONE WORLDERS WERE BOTH RIGHT & WRONG . . .

Once upon a time there were a great many starry eyed dreamers around & about who had things all figured out to where with n little effort here & there we would all join hands in levin' understandin' with all th' other people around th' world and as th' of Fairy Tale used to woid up—we would all live happily ever after and there would only be peace, goodwill and understandin' all sive the day.

Natchly, these wide eyed isocentads had not done their homework on human nature and there are still a good many of these folks kickin' around today who think there really isn't any criminals at large that th' problem is every thing from th' environment to th' hard heartedness of folks who don't like to be mugged, slugged, murdered or robbed

Wilson Food Corp., of Oklahoma City filed for reorganization under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code April 22, and last week shock waves were felt in the livestock and commodities trades. Some observers felt the situation would add heavy pressure to the spot market for livestock, but the company had a rather extreme long position in the futures trade and it was feared that this could put additional pressure on both the live market and the futures market.

This action added another to the list of major packers who have found their markets in a slump. It also gave the company a competitive advantage in competition with other meat packers. The company reported third quarter losses of about $17,000,000, is explaining the move and the company position Kenneth J. Griggy, chairman and chief executive officer said:

"Under the provisions of the Federal bankruptcy laws, a company may be relieved of contracts that are onerous and burdensome and threaten the survival of the company. Today's filing, therefore, will permit Wilson Foods to immediately adjust its union wage rates and benefits to a level that is competitive with the industry," Griggy said.

"During reorganization, Wilson Foods is scheduling normal operations, and will continue to purchase and pay for livestock to meet the production needs of its 12 processing facilities. Product shipments customer service are scheduled to continue uninterrupted, and bills will be paid under existing payment contracts," Griggy said.

Austin—The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in mid-May for 1988 crop information and mid-year livestock inventories.

State Statistician Doug Murfield emphasized that information from the reports and surveys will be used by county ASCS officers to set yields for the farm program. "A good response on these surveys means that we can return more accurate acreage and yield figures back to the counties," Murfield said.

"This information is more important than ever in 1988, especially with the many production options available to farmers and ranchers," Murfield added.

The confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, can also help producers in planning their production and marketing programs for the coming year.

To reduce survey costs, Murfield is urging farmers and ranchers to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state and county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and potted vegetables, and small receipts from the state for production.

Copies of these bulletins can be obtained by contacting the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, TX 78767.

Beginnings May 1, seven lamb marketing points in Texas will initiate a voluntary 10 cent per head checkoff program that will support lamb research and market information programs conducted by the Lamb Committee of the Meat Board and the National Lamb Feeders Assn.

Marketing points agreeing to the May 1 start-up date are Producers Livestock Auction, Compton Livestock Auction, Stockyards, Inc., Mission Auction Co., Inc., Gillespie Livestock Co., Midwest Feed Yards and Odus Whittaker Sheep Co. All organizations came to agreement at a recent meeting in San Angelo, Tex. These markets join other markets and checkoff areas, cooperating with the Meat Board in the lamb checkoff.

When lamb is marketed at one of these locations, producers will make a

are you listening?

Opportunities always exist... even in economically tough times like we're facing today. The difference now is that survival may depend on finding those opportunities and taking advantage of them.

One opportunity that cattlemen should capitalize on is crossbreeding. By crossbreeding, a cattleman can reap the benefits from both selection and hybrid vigor.

The cattleman can select for traits that will match his available resources, traits that will make his operation more cost efficient and traits that the packer and consumer are looking for. The genetic improvement just from crossing two breeds is like an added bonus.

When considering breeds for your crossbreeding program, there is one you shouldn't overlook. A breed that offers these extras:

- Calving Ease
- Heavy Weaning Weights
- Carcasses that yield an abundance of lean, red meat with very little fat
- Easy-keeping cows that won't eat you out of house and home

When times get tough, don't let opportunities pass you by.

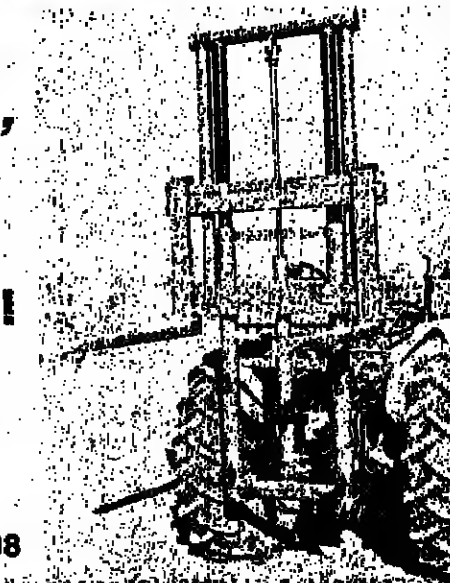

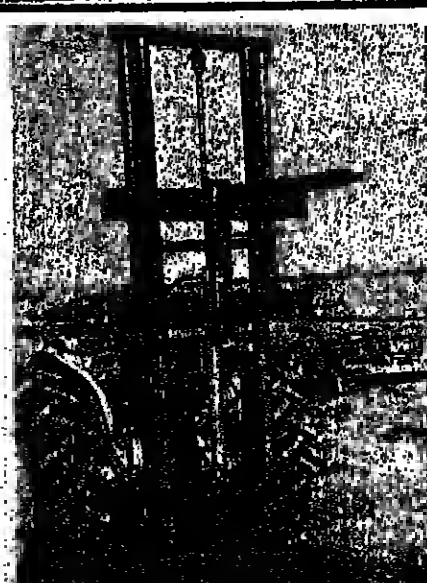

Discover the Limousin Extra. Write today for research results on Limousin cattle and a list of Limousin breeders in your area. North American Limousin Foundation, 100 West 2nd Exchange Building, Denver, Colorado 80202.

McDougle/Roberts Sale To Feature Audio-Visual Presentation

Longhorn cattle, mariachi music and the wondrous video tape will highlight the first annual McDougle/Roberts Hill Country Invitational Longhorn Sale at the ballroom in the La Mansion Del Norte Hotel in San Antonio, May 19, at 7 p.m.

Top of the breed longhorns cattle will be featured in the sale, according to sponsors Mel McDougle and John Roberts of San Antonio and premier consignors DeWitt Maghett of Houston. Guest consignors from all of South Texas will also be represented at the sale.

Longhorn sales are not uncommon among cattle breeders in Texas, but audio-visual presentations at the sale are, according to McDougle. The Hill Country Invitational Sale will feature audio-visual presentations on each of the ranchers' cattle breeding operations.

"Most Longhorn breeders know one another but usually aren't familiar with their associates' cattle and ranching programs," said McDougle. "This presentation will inform everyone not only about the particular cow up for auction but will also shed some light on the breeder's ranching activities."

Texas Markets Join In Lamb Promotion

10 cent per head investment to support lamb research and meat information programs designed to help increase consumer demand for lamb. Included are projects such as research on reconstructed lamb products, nutrient composition data on lamb retail cuts, publication of full-color wall and notebook lamb cut identification charts and distribution of additional lamb information to consumers.

"There are many ways we can help increase consumer demand for lamb," said Jamlo R. Rothmann, vice chairman, Meat Board Lamb Committee, "but we need money to do it, and I'm glad to see these seven Texas markets take the initiative and start a checkoff program that has great potential for revenue development. These funds will go a long way toward helping us 'get the word out' about lamb."

"But our work is far from done. Although we're extremely pleased to have such prestigious markets participating in our program, there are many more markets and lamb producers that need to be brought aboard so we can conduct more extensive lamb research, and meat information programs on behalf of the lamb industry."

The Meat Board's lamb checkoff is part of the sheep and lamb industry's coordinated program of work.

In addition, the company said that it has sufficient cash and credit resources to meet needs in the foreseeable future. Although we deeply regret the necessity of taking this action, "Griggy" said, "none of the remedial steps we have discussed with the UFCW were acceptable to them. Alternatives proposed by Wilson Foods included a profit-sharing plan in return for wage concessions, so employee stock ownership plan, and a lump sum payment to employees to buy out the burdensome terms of the contract. Reorganization is absolutely necessary to insure our survival as a company."

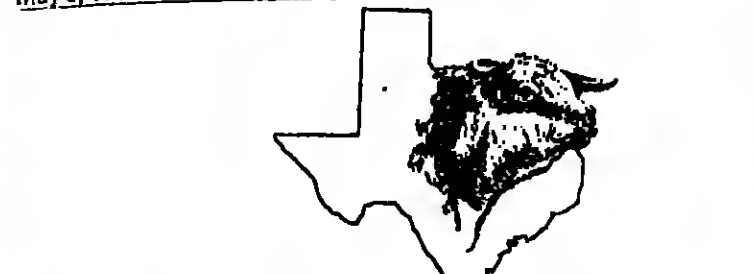

We are emphatically not going out of business, but our union leaders must understand we simply cannot continue under the existing competitive disadvantage. The union realizes we are in a critical battle to save everyone's jobs. Our competitive cost position in the industry has eroded rapidly in the past few months. Under our current union contract, we just cannot process hogs at a production cost level competitive enough to maintain adequate gross margins to keep our company alive."

As previously reported, the company had a loss of $2,800,000 on sales of $1,200,000,000 for the first six months of fiscal 1983. This downward trend has accelerated dramatically in recent months, the company said, and the estimate for the third quarter ending April 30, is a net loss of over $17,000,000.

"Since going public in 1961, Wilson Foods' primary challenge has been to bring labor costs in line and regain a competitive position in the industry," Origgy noted. He said the company started this process by negotiating a wage freeze in December, 1981, which was suspended cost-of-living adjustments for 44 months. During that time, Origgy said, the union expected to bring the wage and benefit package of competitors up to Wilson Foods' levels. "However, that clearly has not happened. In fact, the union has actually negotiated wage reductions for some competing companies."

"At this point, we strongly believe—and financial projections indicate—that our very survival depends on our employees making sacrifices today to make their jobs secure tomorrow. Salaried employees are taking a reduction in pay ranging from a 40% reduction of my own compensation to lower percentage decreases for other salaried personnel. Hourly wages and benefits also will be adjusted downward to levels that are competitive."

"In return for the reduction of wages and benefits, the company is committed to offering hourly employees participation in a substantial profit-sharing plan, which will allow them to share in a meaningful way in the future financial success of the company. We look forward to negotiating new contracts with the union. Origgy concluded."

SNIDOW

Bud Snidow Hangs 'Em Up After 32 Hereford Years

Kansas City—B.C. "Bud" Snidow, a leading Hereford industry figure for over 32 years, retired from his position as Director of Breed Activities and Assistant Secretary of the American Hereford Association on April 19.

In announcing the retirement, H.H. Dickenson, Executive Vice President of the AHA, said, "Probably no one in the history of the breed has had closer contact with and been friends with more Hereford breeders than has Bud. His calm nature, willingness to listen to the problems of others, friendly attitude and overall knowledge of the industry has endeared him to all cattlemen."

"Snidow joined the American Hereford Association as an eastern field representative in 1951 moving to the AHA's Kansas City headquarters in 1956. In 1961, he was appointed the AHA's Assistant Secretary. His duties as Assistant Secretary included the registry process, field services, shows, foreign exports, and directing many various breed activities."

With the some 92 1/2 years of service, Snidow has served the AHA and its members longer than any other employee in an administrative position in the Association's history. As one tribute to his long service, the 1983 American Royal Register of Merit Hereford Show has designated the "Bud Snidow Royal."

Panhandle Hereford Tour June 14 To Visit 5 Ranches

Clarendon. Five well-known Texas Panhandle Hereford breeders have scheduled a one-day ranch tour for June 14 preceding the Texas Hereford Association Junior Field Day and Heifer Sale, June 15, Clarendon College, Clarendon.

The June 14 tour will begin at 8:00 a.m. at Bern Herefords, Fellet. Visitors will have the opportunity to inspect the herds of this nationally known firm. Established in 1947, Bern Herefords carries approximately 800 registered Line One cows in service to Bern's Le Grand Domino 7184, "David", Le Grand Domino A155, L1 Domino 80811, Lone Star Domino 720, and Texas Grand Dem 1058.

B&C Cattle Co., Miami, will be the second stop for the tour group. The cow herd, consisting of 250 head of registered stock, was founded in 1989 and is sired by Bill Breeding, B&C, who made their reputation in the registered circles with the "Hetchat" and "Clown" bulls, will display their current sire, CH Domino 602 "The Toolpusher", and HH Advance 858, for the tour group.

The third tour stop will take visitors to Indian Mound Ranch, Canadian, owned by Wayne Heygood. This predominantly Line One herd has gained wide acclaim for its show ring accomplishments. The list of IMR herd bulls includes L1 Special Mark ET, L1 Superstar, L1 Image ET, and L1 Hered. ET. Lunch will be served at Indian Mound Ranch compliments of the tour host.

From Indian Mound Ranch, tour members will proceed to Bryant Herefords, Wheeler, who will be the final tour stop. Owned by George and Champ Davis, Bryant Herefords has been in the spotlight of the past year with the addition of several of the top ranked females in the breed. Herd sires at the Bryant Herefords include 8R Mark Domino 288A, HH Advance 891, Lone Star Donald 129, and CL 1 Domino 9093.

The tour will be completed in time for visitors to drive to Clarendon to attend the Texas Junior Hereford Association activities planned for Tuesday evening. Positive First Quarter Report Issued By BBU Beefmaster Breeders Universal has released a first quarter report that shows record increases in membership, non-member buyers and inquiries. Approval of 171 new members was given by BBU board of directors during the first quarter; forty-eight more were approved in April for a record total of 219 since January first.

Eighty-seven and one-half percent of the 1982 membership met the April first dues deadline for a total of 2,068. This represents a twenty-five percent increase in membership over last April. New non-member buyers from twenty-one states have been recorded by BBU since the beginning of the year. The 819 new buyers have not been previously listed on computer. Top states include: Texas, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Georgia, Arkansas and California respectively. This represents a thirty-seven percent increase in new non-member buyers over the same period in 1982.

BBU has responded to 1,511 inquiries received from 44 states, Mexico, Central and South America. This is a 400 percent increase over the same period last year.

"Only one other statistic says more than these," said Gene Kuykendall, executive vice president of BBU, "and that's the average on our commercial bulls. In seven bull sales during the first quarter, commercial producers paid $1,601 for 924 (registered) commercial bulls, and that's a strong average on that many bulls. As long as we're doing that, the rest will come."

Tour Of Beefmaster Ranches Scheduled By LCBBA, BBU

A tour of Beefmaster ranches in South Texas have been scheduled by Live Oak County Beefmaster Breeders Association May 19 and 20, 1983. The tour, co-sponsored by Beefmaster Breeders Universal, is the first one for the breed.

The tour is being paid for by participating members of LCBBA, and is open to purebred and commercial producers. "We've been thinking about having tours for sometime now," said Gene Kuykendall, executive vice president of BBU, "and the obvious place to start is in Live Oak County where the greatest concentration of Beefmasters are today. It's a good opportunity to broaden communication and understanding between our purebred breeders and the commercial producers. We hope both will participate."

by members of LCBBA at the Live Oak County Fair between Three Rivers and George West. Beefmasters will be displayed by Fred Brauchle, J.B. Kolb, Stewart Brothers, Wayne Bowers, Sherri Mills, Lao Jaski, Palmer Brothers, William McQuary, and Raymond Wiedlag. Each breeder will have a brief period to talk about his cattle during the event.

The tour will begin on May 19th in Corpus Christi. The bus will leave the Airport Hilton Inn at 7:00 a.m. and return there at the end of the tour on May 20th. For additional information on the tour schedule, hotel accommodations, and participating Beefmaster ranches, contact: BBU, 850 GPM S. Results of these treatments plus various brush control methods will be discussed during the field days, said McGregor. Both he and Dr. Tommy Welch, Extension range brush and weed control specialist, will present information.

Individuals planning to attend the field day should call in their reservations to McGregor at 409-828-3667 in Hempstead by May 9.

Livestock Producers Should Be Alert For Screwworms

Livestock producers in this area need to add one more chore to their springtime work: check your animals for screwworm infestations. Submit any suspected samples to the U.S. Department of Agriculture fly lab at Mission. Screwworm officials explain the only way in which they can know of any possible screwworm outbreaks in Texas is by livestock producers submitting suspected samples for verification. "Samples submission has increased some in recent weeks, but there is a need to continue and increase this," Dr. John W. Holcomb, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, Austin, said.

A total of 27 screwworm cases were confirmed in Mexico recently about 150 miles south of Reynosa, so it is important to continue to check for possible outbreaks in this area.

One undetected case of screwworms can spread rapidly. Sample kits for mulling the samples are available at county agent's offices, TABC area offices and other outlets. The samples if mailed in the kit require no postage.

The eyes of Texas and the eyes of the world will be on Houston's eighth annual Western Heritage Sale May 13-14 at the historic Shamrock Hilton Hotel.

The 1983 festivities will begin Friday night with the sale of more than 150 juried pieces of fine art. On Saturday night, veteran auctioneer Gerald Bowie will call the shots in the Grand Ballroom as 25 Quarter Horses, 25 Santo Gertrudis and 25 select works of art go to the highest bidders.

Payment In Kind Assignments Explained

A producer earning payment in kind (PIK) under the new USDA program may assign to another the right to receive part or all of the commodity payment. As a result, banks may have assigned to them as collateral varying amounts of wheat, corn, sorghum, cotton and rice.

The following are highlights of the assignment rules sent to Agricultural Bank and Conservation Service offices. The assignee, which could be a bank, must sign Commodity Credit Corp. form CCC-478 indicating acceptance of the assignment conditions, and cannot reassign the PIK commodities to another assignee.

One assignment may be for all the PIK due the assignor under PIK contracts. It must identify by source of the specific quantity due the assignor from (1) outstanding farm-stored loans, (2) outstanding warehouse-stored loans or (3) CCC inventory.

Except for cotton, only one assignment per entitlement is permitted. In the case of cotton, each individual warehouse receipt may be assigned. A producer may make separate assignments for PIK quantities due from any of the 8 sources.

There may be no more than one assignment outstanding at one time for a certain quantity of commodity. The sum of all quantities assigned may not exceed the total crop amount involved in the PIK contracts.

In accepting an assignment, a bank or other assignee agrees that the assignment is subject to contract compliance by the assignor, that the assignor retains the right to name the availability data (unless another person is given power of attorney for this purpose) and that CCC and its agents will not be liable in any manner for disputes between assignor and assignee.

A separate form CCC-478 is required for each crop being assigned. While the form must be prepared in the county office, the assignor may take the form from the office to obtain the assignee's signature.

The form must be prepared by an ABCS county employee and duly witnessed. Assignments can involve PIK from more than one contract, as long as all the contracts are clearly cross-referenced.

After the assignment has been accepted, the county offices must require consent of both assignor and assignee for any change in quantities of PIK.

Such changes must be requested before the notice of availability is issued. After an assignment has been accepted, the county office can cancel the assignment only on written authorization of the assignee.

The assignor may, up to the end of the availability period for the crop, retain the right to choose the date the assigned PIK is made available to the assignee. Or the assignor may, within the same period, authorize the assignee or another person to choose the date when the crop will be made available, or redeem and sell to CCC loan quantities identified in the assignment to effect availability.

by these natural born men ones. Today th' One World is upon us. It snt nuthin' like what these idealist had in mind. Th' One World bizness is strictly to bizness. American biznesses unfolded new frontiers in both developed and undeveloped countries and after th' istial efforts to gather up raw materials and bring 'em back home and then sell the finished products to other countries, they soon figgered out that hurrin labor was sias a commodity that would make some money. This is where th' New One World comes in. Now those other countries are moving in on America thn same way. An you will note one of th' latest casualties in our industrial scene is th' Wilson Food Corp., th' story is on this page in this Weekly Livestock Reporter. It is an old story that is gittin' repeated jst about nary day. Our affluent SaaSiaty of workin' folks like you & me have jst about priced our eels outta th' market in th' matter of costs of production. It has been evident to anyone who wanted to pay attention that our good ol' U.S.A. does not call th' tune for Fur-rin Countries any more. They jst thumb their noses at us and do as they dang wall please and give us a good cusin' in th' process. Yep, that One World is here. It is now a fact that our money, our goods, our trade and our economic lives are tied up with th' rest of th' world and there aint any way to untangle th' mess. It does look like we are makin' sd. Justmeste. It does look like our business and industry is goin' through a basic and fundamental change from top to bottom and while it snt gonna be very pleasant while th' process proceeds, we might as well face th' facts and th' sooner th' better, and we can git our wagos rollin' agin. Ever thine, The Edittor. P.S.: Unkie Dusk notes where Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock has been complainin' that sales tax take has been shrinkin' and for that reason th' Legiminture will not have as may hills to throw around as they hoped. However, Bob does now have a report out that says th' tax on likker by th' drink is still rain and was up 2.7% in th' first quarter of this year. Jst goes to show you Texans may have some problems, but heads' elbows aint one of 'em! -Thassall, Brothers!

Alaska Creates False Hope For Jobs

Juneau - The Alaska Department of Labor has issued a warning urging job seekers not to look to Alaska for work this summer season. Commissioner of Labor, Jim Robison, says, "There are no worker shortages in Alaska. Job seekers should be very wary of advertisements offering high paying jobs or Alaska job information for sale."

"Each year," Robison says, "many job seekers have based their decisions to come north on inaccurate or incomplete information and find that no jobs are available in Alaska where their limited food and housing dollars disappear at an accelerated rate because the cost-of-living is high."

Alaska has not been immune to the economic downturn that has swept the nation. The Alaska unemployment rate in 1982 was 3.3%, remaining among the 20 states most severely afflicted by unemployment. Alaska's annual unemployment rates have exceeded the national average since the mid-1970's, and are expected to stay high during 1983. Some Alaska communities routinely experience seasonal unemployment rates of more than 20%.

Commissioner Robison says, "We welcome you to come and visit, but bring enough cash or a return ticket home so you do not run the risk of getting stranded."

The Alaska Natural Gas Pipeline Project which has been under discussion for the past couple of years is indefinitely on "hold" due to the economic climate and high cost of construction.

Int'l Ranchers Roundup Set Aug. 1-5, in San Angelo, Texas

San Angelo - Ranchers from 26 states and several countries are expected here August 1-5 when the 3rd Annual International Ranchers Roundup convenes in this West Texas ranching hub.

Recognized as the largest, most comprehensive educational function ever organized for southwestern ranchers, the IRR will feature general sessions of interest to all ranchers and landowners, plus three days of intensified concurrent sessions in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing management, wildlife, marketing, business management for the ranch family, and a computer workshop.

Thus far some 85 ranching experts have been confirmed to speak during the five-day event with about two dozen speakers yet to be selected. Several internationally-known ranch experts are to be on hand for concurrent sessions.

Keynote speakers for the opening day general session include Dub Weldrip, president, National Cattlemen's Association; Don Tom Leof, U.S. Congressman; Cas Moore, prominent South African rancher; and Dr. Arthur G. Hansen, Chancellor of the Texas A&M University System, a key sponsor. Other keynote speakers will be announced upon confirmation.

"Innovative Ranch Management" is the 1983 theme, according to IRR coordinators Dr. Larry White, Texas Agricultural Extension Service range specialist, Uvalde; Dr. LeRoy Hermann, District Extension Director and formerly Extension Livestock specialist, Uvalde; and Robert H. Koning, Extension farm management specialist, San Angelo. Eighteen agricultural specialists from across the state serve on the IRR steering committee.

Hermann and White originated the IRR concept three years ago as a means of providing a comprehensive educational format to aridland ranchers who share common problems. Since its introduction in 1981, the multi-faceted program has effectively served over 1,100 ranchers and has been favorably compared with the Texas A&M University animal science curriculum for its variety and quality of instruction.

From the outset the IRR has been held in the border area of Del Rio, Texas, with overwhelming success. Yet, in an effort to make the program accessible to more ranchers throughout the Southwest, the coordinators opted to move the IRR to the San Angelo Convention Center for the 1983 event which promises to be much larger and more extensive.

Conference participants will have their choice of four separate ranch tours on August 5 featuring West Texas ranches noted for innovative management practices in beef cattle, sheep and goats, grazing systems, plus a two-day overnight wildlife tour in the scenic Texas Hill Country area near Kerrville.

Registered participants will also receive a copy of the 480-page bound IRR proceedings book containing most of the talks presented. This book has proved very useful by ranchers so a handy reference guide by many who have ordered extra copies of both past editions.

Registration information and more program details can be obtained from your County Extension Office or by writing to IRR, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, TX 78801. Registration forms must be completed and returned with proper payment by July 1 to qualify for the $50 pre-registration discount. Attendance will be limited to 750 participants on a first come-prid basis.

Texas Livestock Receipts Good But Below '81

College Station - Sales of livestock products which totaled some $5.1 billion made up more than half of Texas' agricultural receipts last year.

Total sales of agricultural products are estimated at about $9.8 billion for the state in 1982, says Dr. Carl G. Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Overall, cash receipts from most animals were down about $800 million from 1981 while dairy product receipts increased a little and poultry and egg receipts dropped $10,000. Cattle and calves sold for $6.6 billion; sheep, $64 million; goats, $11 million; and hogs, $116 million.

Traditionally, Texas ranks first in sales from marketing of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, and goats and mohair, says Anderson.

Cattle and calf marketing brought in the largest total sales of any farm commodity. However, this was some $800 million below 1981. Fed beef had the largest total cash receipts in the Penhandle, almost $664 million. North Central Texas led the market for other types of beef with almost $280 million total cash receipts.

Dairymen, numbering about 2,600, marketed some 12 million pounds of milk daily from an estimated 330,000 cows. Northeast Texas led in sales of milk products and milk cows in the state with total cash receipts of almost $181 million. Total receipts from dairy products stood at $545 million last year, up $4 million from 1981.

Cash receipts from broilers and form chicks totaled $125 million and $7 million, respectively, in East Texas, the state's leading region.

Turkey receipts were the highest in Central Texas, at $80.4 million.

The Coastal Bend area led the state in egg sales, at almost $45 million.

Chicken hen sales at $769,000 were highest in the Upper Coast area, where receipts from honey also led the state at $1.5 million.

Sheep and goat numbers increased slightly after many years of decline. Mohair receipts of $26 million exceeded wool sales of $18 million.

West Central Texas was the leader in cash receipts from sheep and wool with sales at $28.5 million and wool sales at almost $7 million.

Southwest Texas led in cash receipts from goats at $7 million and in mohair receipts of $14.5 million.

Hog sales were the highest in South Central Texas at $24.6 million.

Texas farmers and ranchers should see some improvement in crop and livestock prices during 1983, believes Anderson. An improving economy should hold domestic consumption of agricultural production, and some improvement in export sales is also expected.
